QUESTIONNAIRE

First of all, we have obtained consent to data collection. Almost every consumer from all ages could fill out the survey.

As we said, the survey on consumers is a part of “For Health, For Earning”. If consumers are concerned about what they eat is contaminated by heavy metals, there will be a greater demand in green heavy-metal-free vegetables than common vegetables. What we wanted to know is the consumers’ opinions on vegetables contaminated by heavy metals.

Below you will read how/why the questions are made:

Notes:

"Green heavy-metal-free vegetables" in this questionnaire refers to vegetables that are not polluted by heavy metals under the strict production control; "common vegetables" means vegetables that may have been polluted by heavy metals
